A Chance for Change: Empowerment & Restoration

The Erasmus+ funded project “A Chance for Change” launches its two e-courses which will be available for free on rj4all educational site.

On the 27th of September 2021, Training Centre "EPIMORFOTIKI KILKIS" had the pleasure to announce to its trainers, trainees, co-workers and the general public, the completion of the two training courses under the European ERASMUS+ project "A Chance for Change: Empowerment and Restoration" (2019-1-UK01-KA205-061341):

- 1) Preventing gender-based violence through restorative justice and media education and
- 2) Train the trainer: Media education based on gender-based violence prevention.

Via Facebook and website, interested parties were invited to pilot the courses, free of charge, and provide valuable feedback. “EPIMOROFTIKI KILKIS” would like to take this opportunity to thank all stakeholders who actually did pilot the courses.

The partners’ consortium is coordinated by Restorative Justice for All, from England and it consists of 4 other European organizations from Spain, Italy, Cyprus and France, who all are looking forward to the successful completion of the project.

Daniela Jaramillo-Dent, from Huelva University said: "The Spanish team is excited to participate in the launch of the projects' two e-courses, which offer a comprehensive approach to gender-based violence that fills a competency need for youth workers in Europe and is open, free, and certified. It combines Media Literacy and Restorative Justice in two courses aimed at GBV prevention and training future trainers. It will surely become one of the key open courses for youth workers aiming to learn about GBV in the region."

Theo Mavrosavva, from OTI said: “Another successful output for youth workers, teachers and the educational community is available from our project. Another tool against GBV and building competences for a better future with Media Education and Restorative Justice. Two multi-disciplined area-focused e-courses now available for free and can be added in our tool-box of knowledge and methods for educating our communities.
